Subject: "The Right to Know," Notice to Parents of Teacher and Teacher Assistant Qualifications.

The Every Student Succeeds Act requires school districts to notify parents of children attending a Title I school of their right to know about the professional qualifications of the teachers who instruct their child. This school receives Title I funds from the federal government to provide additional services to students who are at risk of not meeting state academic standards. The federal government requires that all Title I schools provide parents with information about the qualifications of the teachers who instruct their child.

Teachers and teaching assistants are the primary providers of instruction for all students. Whether the teacher is a generalist or a specialist, the teacher is responsible for the academic success of the students who are in their classroom.
